➤ I understand that only items meeting the high standards of Dandelion Kids will be accepted for resale. If some of my items are unacceptable for resale, I instruct Dandelion Kids to (please initial one choice):

- 1. Return the items to me _____ ; or,
(I agree to pick up the items within 3 days of notification or they will be sent on to charity)
- 2. Donate the items to a local charity _____

- I agree that the items accepted for resale will have a 3-month consignment period.
- I understand that I will receive 40% of the selling price; %50 for items over $50.00.
- All unsold pieces must be retrieved BEFORE the end of the pre-determined consignment period. Pick-up dates will be provided. All unsold consignment items NOT picked up by the consignment period Pick-up Date will automatically become the property of Dandelion Kids. These products will remain on the shelves at a reduced rate; funds received from any further sales will be awarded to Dandelion Kids in order to compensate for the time on the shelf. Following this period, any unsold merchandise will be donated either to a charity or needy families in the area.
- I understand that periodic sales and markdowns are at the sole discretion of Dandelion Kids
- I understand that it is my responsibility to collect outstanding monies owed to me on my account within a period of six (6) months from the consignment date. Accounts left dormant after this six month period forfeit all proceeds to Dandelion Kids;
- Dandelion Kids is not liable for loss of items through fire, theft, vandalism or in-store damage.

This contract replaces all previous contracts with Dandelion Kids. By signing this contract, I agree to the above terms and certify that all items brought in are my property to sell.

Dandelion Kids accepts most brands of children's clothing. Items must be clean and in immaculate condition to meet the high standards of Dandelions.

Dandelions recommends that you always call first before bringing in your drop-off to the store. We will go through your items with you at the time of drop-off so that we can return to you those items that don't quite meet Dandelions high standards right away. Occasionally there is a halt on drop-offs. It is also recommended to call first before bringing large items to the store for spacing reasons.

We encourage you to go through your items very carefully. Help us help you. Look over your items carefully. Watch for stains or general wear and tear on the fabric.

At Dandelions, we have a very high turnover rate; however, if you would like your unsold items returned to you, it is up to you to remember the date, and come and pull the items by the pickup date that you were given at drop-off time. If you don't pick up by the pickup date, we will assume you don't want them and decide what to do with them.

Dandelion Kids is not able to pull your unsold items for you. However, on or before your pick-up date, simply pop in, ask for an inventory list to see what is remaining in the store, and pull those items. You will most likely recognize your own items and pull them easily and quickly.

Dandelions prices your items. However, if there is something that you would like to price, please let us know at drop-off time. We can't guarantee it will sell; however, we are happy to oblige.

Due to hygienic and safety reasons, we cannot sell stuffed animals, carseats, and cribs.

Dandelions carefully inspect your items at drop-off time. We check for wear and tear, dangerous pieces missing, whether it is in good working order, and for general cleanliness. We also encourage the customer to check over the merchandise at the time of purchase.

You have 24 hours from the day of purchase to return the item for whatever reason for a full refund. Our system holds back payment from the consignor for 48 hours to allow for returns. This excludes final clearance items.
